Carol's Abdication Hinted; Hungarians Take Over Transylvania

Five Destroyers At Sea

U. S. BOATS SAIL TOWARD CANADA

Craft, Enroute To Britain Fully Armed, Carrying Skeleton Crews

BOSTON, Sept. 5—Fully armed and armored, five U. S. destroyers were plunging through the rolling Atlantic today, presumably headed for a Canadian port as vanguard of the 50 over-age warcraft given Great Britain in exchange for American naval and air bases on British possessions in the Western Hemisphere.

The five vessels, each of 1200 tons, are the Hale, the Aaron Ward, the Abel Upshur, the Welles and the Herndon. The first three sailed from Boston last night, the latter two this forenoon, reportedly under sealed orders which, when opened, are expected to direct them to a Canadian port.

Skeleton crews of American bluejackets manned the maritime veterans of the first World War as they headed out to sea. Also aboard, according to unofficial navy yard reports, were torpedoes, anti-aircraft shells and depth charges. Crews lining the shore cheered the departure.

British naval crews are understood to be already enroute to Canada, there to take over the destroyers as units of the royal navy.

Meanwhile, there was considerable activity at the Boston navy yard. Three other over-age destroyers, similar to those now headed northward, are being overhauled and militarized and their departure is believed only a matter of days.

NEW REGIME TO BANISH KING CAROL'S COMPANION

BUDAPEST, Sept. 5—Mme. Magda Lupescu, titian-haired Romanian Jewess who was King Carol's constant companion as exile and monarch for years, is to be sent into banishment by order of Premier General Ion Antonescu, it was understood in Budapest today.

King Carol, now reduced to a figurehead under Antonescu, was reported to have consented to her banishment and has provided Mme. Lupescu with a special ship to take her to Istanbul.

Horia Sima, Iron Guard leader who instigated rebellion over cession of Transylvania to Hungary, also will be exiled.

KNOX EYES U. S. BASES IN VITAL PACIFIC REGION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—Increasing tension in the Far East today prompted the United States to move swiftly in strengthening the Pacific.

On the heels of the historic Anglo-American exchange of 50 over-age destroyers for naval base sites along the Atlantic seaboard, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox revealed the United States is seeking to establish submarine, warship, and air bases on the Galapagos and Cocos Islands. Knox is on an inspection tour of Pacific naval facilities.

Cocos Islands, owned by Costa Rica, and the Galapagos, an Ecuadorian possession, are close to the Pacific approaches to the Panama Canal. President Roosevelt visited Cocos Island on one of his cruises.

The State Department, while refusing to confirm Knox's disclosure, officially expressed its concern over reports of a threatened Japanese move on French Indo-China.

NAZIS TAKE SIX AMERICANS OFF CAPTURED SHIP

NEW YORK, Sept. 5—In a short wave broadcast from Berlin, a C.B.S. commentator today quoted a German newspaper as reporting the removal by a German naval boarding party of six Americans from a captured British freighter.

The commentator said the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung had announced the capture of the S. S. Atlantic, location undisclosed, enroute to South Africa. Aboard were six Americans: Mr. and Mrs. O. Yoder, F. A. Schmalenberger, Jessie M. Nicholson, Frank J. Kuntzer and Lola C. Kuntzer.

There was no information as to where in the United States the six persons hailed from, nor was it disclosed from what port they had sailed. Also undisclosed was the fate of the British ship.

The Berlin newspaper, the commentator said, stated that the six were first taken to a French port and then given transportation to Iron on the Spanish border. The newspaper also published a letter allegedly written by the Americans thanking the German authorities for their considerate treatment.

3,000 GERMAN SOLDIERS DROWN, BRITISH DECLARE

LONDON, Sept. 5—An estimated 3,000 German troops were drowned when British naval units torpedoed the 12,000 ton Nazi transport Marion in the Gulf of Bothnia, the London Evening Star said today.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD APPEALS

Educators Vote To Fight On In Muhlenberg Case; Ballot Is 4 To 1

By a vote of four to one, Pickaway County Board of Education at its meeting Wednesday evening voted to continue its fight against the Muhlenberg Board for the creation of a new school district from the combined Monroe and Muhlenberg school districts.

Charles Gerhardt, attorney for the county board, said Thursday that he would have his case ready for the District Court when it convenes in Pickaway County, October 30. Attorney Gerhardt maintains that the action of the county board in creating the new school district is justified under section 4736 of the Ohio General Code, and that the board is not restricted by any provisions of the Ohio statutes other than those contained in that section.

Judge George McDowell, of Hillsboro, who recently decided the case in favor of the Muhlenberg board, contended that 4736 of the code, which grants the county board authority to create new school districts, could not apply alone in the case, but was limited by section 4727 of the code, which provides that when once a school district is centralized by a two-thirds vote of its electors, that district cannot be decentralized without a similar vote. Since a vote for decentralization in the Muhlenberg and the Monroe districts has not been obtained, the Judge maintained the county board was acting without authority.

In a similar case last year between the same litigants, the same appellate court which will hear the case October 30 reversed Judge Meeker Terwilliger's decision in favor of the county board. However, Attorney Gerhardt contends that the case differs from the previous one in that it involves the creation of a completely new school district rather than a consolidation of the two.

AIR FIELD WORK TO BE SPEEDED WITH MORE MEN

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5—To speed up national defense preparations, the crew working on improvements at the U. S. Army's Patterson field near Dayton, will be increased to 500 workers next week by addition of WPA employees, Ohio WPA officials announced today.

At present the crew numbers 425, officials said, but beginning Monday workers will be sent there from completed WPA projects in Greene County. Patterson field is the army air corps' engineering, repair and supply depot.

The work at Patterson field includes extension of the usable portion of the flying field, placing of power and light cables under ground, improving industrial buildings and houses and adding warehouse facilities.

Brasov, Other Cities May Cause Trouble In New Order In Balkans

BUCHAREST, Sept. 5—After less than a year as absolute monarch of this Balkan realm, King Carol stepped back into a figurehead role today to make way for the self-proclaimed "nationalist" regime of Premier General Ion Antonescu.

As Hungarian troops began military occupation of the vast areas of Transylvania ceded to Hungary on orders of the Rome-Berlin axis, Antonescu inaugurated his dictatorial government after a night spent in reproaching King Carol for his "mistakes" as autocratic monarch.

Antonescu issued a proclamation to the people of Romania, demanding their utmost cooperation and promising a "new deal" for the country.

"This is not a new government," he said, "but a new regime."

"Our program will be based on the nationalist credo. Our grave and painful past is finished."

Exhausted and reported despondent after listening to night-long recriminations from Antonescu and members of his crown council, King Carol at dawn signed a decree abolishing the Romanian constitution and parliament and conferring all essential royal prerogatives on Antonescu. For himself, Carol retained

BRITISH BELIEVE HITLER'S CHANCE TO INVADE GONE

By H. R. Knickerbocker

LONDON, Sept. 5—Cheered by what they consider Chancellor Hitler's surprisingly revealed loss of nerve, the British people rose in spirit today to a point where it can be objectively reported that persons in authority and possessed of all necessary information are now perhaps for the first time sincerely confident not merely that Britain will be defended but that Germany will be defeated.

The most brilliant September in the memory of London provides an Indian summer background for Royal Air Force victories at first doubted by a skeptical world, but now confirmed by the most authoritative source conceivable—the Fuehrer.

It can now be admitted that there have been times in the past when Hitler's speeches aroused if not fear then at any rate most sober consideration, and from the fall of Norway to the fall of France there was no inclination to smile at or deride his utterances.

This is the first time when without forcing it British authorities as well as the man in the street have been able both to smile at and deride Hitler for what they consider his "undignified exhibition of frustrated hate" in the Berlin Sportpalast yesterday.

Now also for the first time neutral observers—some of whom could not be described as friendly to the British cause—are unanimous in the opinion that Germany no longer has a chance successfully to invade this country.

VILLAGER BRINGS BLAZE TO CIRCLEVILLE FIREMEN

Instead of going to a fire, Circleville firemen had a fire brought to them Wednesday night at 9:30 when John Lowry of Laureville drove up in front of the engine house and had firemen extinguish a fire in the seat of his automobile.

Jury Throws Out Drunk Driving Charge Against Patrolman; Report Filed

After hearing testimony from 11 witnesses, Wednesday, the September term Pickaway County grand jury refused to indict Charles Mumaw, suspended city patrolman, charged with operating a motor vehicle when intoxicated.

Charges were filed against Mumaw, August 24, by Roy Wallis, who claimed that on August 18, the officer was driving when intoxicated.

Mumaw must still answer alleged bribery charges filed against him by three men connected with gambling interests in Circleville who presented Chief of Police William McCready with affidavits charging the patrolman with soliciting bribes from them. Hearing in connection with the alleged bribery charges will be held before the safety director within the next few days.

New Dealer Leads

City Council, at its meeting Wednesday evening, voted an appropriation of $50 to employ an attorney for Police Chief McCready in connection with the case.

During Tuesday and Wednesday, the grand jury examined 66 witnesses, covering 17 cases, ignoring seven and passing one.

Hit-Skip Charged

Claude Conrad, 31, Columbus, charged by Corporal R. L. Galbreath of the State Highway patrol, with hit-skip driving and with driving when under suspension after he had struck John Orlando, Ashworth, West Virginia, as he was walking along Route 23, three miles south of Circleville, June 9, was indicted.

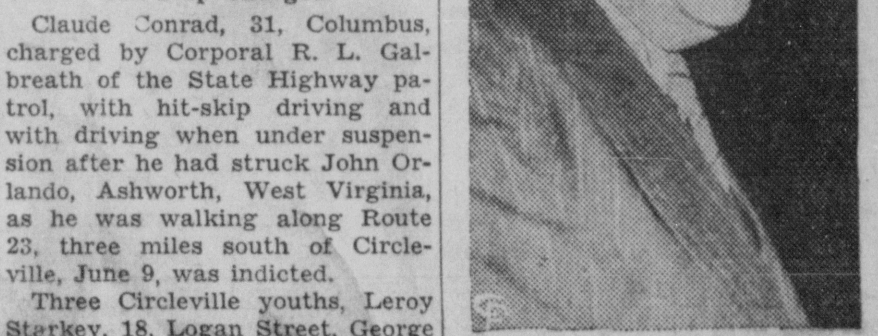

Three Circleville youths, Leroy Sterkey, 18, Logan Street, George Starkey, 19, Huston Street, and Charles Hill, 23, Circleville, arrested by Circleville police and Sheriff Charles Radloff for stealing brass fittings from engines at the Sturm and Dillard Company, Route 5, were indicted. Four other boys, allegedly connected with the thefts, were released after they had been questioned by local officers. James H. Adams, Sturm and Dillard official, stated that the boys had stolen over $400 worth of fittings, which they had sold to an Ashville junk dealer. Some of the stolen goods were recovered by the sheriff's department.

The grand jury ignored charges of assault and battery, filed against Norman Aronson, 30, East Main Street, by his wife, Bonnie Aronson, who claimed that on June 20 her husband had beaten her severely.

John Graham, 22, Hayward Street, and Merle Ankrom, Circleville, will face the court on charges of auto larceny, both being indicted. The pair was arrested July 14 by Patrolman Miller Flissell and Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver for stealing the automobile of Eugene Manbevers, Hayward Avenue.

Henry Manbevers, 75, of New Holland, was indicted of statutory charges brought against him following his arrest July 11 by Deputies Bryan Custer and Earl Weaver. Manbevers had been bound over to the jury on $500 bond.

REP. ABE MURDOCK

SALT Lake City, Sept. 5—New Deal Democrats and Republicans both saw cause for rejoicing today in near final returns from Utah's primary election of Tuesday. New Dealers hailed the defeat of veteran Senator William H. King in the Democratic senatorial primary by Rep. Abe Murdock, pointing out that Murdock is an enthusiastic supporter of the administration while King often has opposed President Roosevelt's policies. The G.O.P., however, emphasized the importance of the narrow margin between total Democratic and Republican votes cast. The Democratic total was about 21,000 votes above that of the G.O.P., but in 1932 and 1936 the difference ranged from 40,000 to 60,000 votes.

BURKE MAY WIN RECORD BALLOT ON THIRD TERM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—Pre-election consideration of legislation which would put senate Democrats on record for or against a third term for President Roosevelt was predicted today by Sen. Burke (D) Neb.

Burke, chairman of a senate judiciary subcommittee holding hearings on the third term issue, said he had been assured by senate leaders that any anti-third term legislation reported to the senate will be debated before adjournment.

The Nebraskaan predicted that his subcommittee and full judiciary committee will adopt some form of legislation which, if approved by the senate, would register opposition to a third term for any President.

ROME DECLARES U. S., CANADIANS MAY JOIN SOON

ROME, Sept. 5—The entire press in Rome today published a sensational Stefani (Italian) news agency report from San Sebastian claiming that Canada may soon be linked to the United States.

(Editor's Note: There was absolutely no confirmation of this story from any other source. It appeared to be part of the Italian propaganda campaign against the exchange of United States destroyers for air and naval bases in British new world possessions.)

The Stefani report said that the Anglo-American destroyer deal was reported to be the prelude to "cession of Canada to the United States."

The dispatch also claimed that England has agreed to strengthen her fleet units in Singapore and Australia and that an initial exchange of views has occurred in London and Washington regarding cession to the United States of a base in the Falkland Islands in exchange for delivery of second-hand airplanes and more destroyers to Britain.

Berlin Admits Damage To Military Base As Royal Air Force Planes Hurl Missiles During Darkness

LONDON, Sept. 5—After the air raid sirens had wailed outside to disrupt a session of Parliament, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today that England had just begun to fight and that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's empire would some day disappear like that of Napoleon.

In a lengthy address in which he hailed the Anglo-American destroyer-naval base agreement as a "memorable transaction" which will enable the United States to "take danger by the throat" if Germany attempts invasion of the Western Hemisphere, Churchill said that England is ready for the worst that Hitler has to offer.

"Neither side has put out its full strength," he said.

LONDON, Sept. 5—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today revealed that 1,075 British civilians had been killed in Nazi air raids during the month of August. The number of injured was "slightly greater," Churchill said.

LONDON, Sept. 5—For the first time since the war began, a sitting of the House of Commons was suspended during an air raid alarm today.

The house had just assembled when the 44th warning of the war sounded. The house was three-quarters full and the public and diplomatic galleries jammed. United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy was present.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who was scheduled to make an address, entered just as the sirens were sounding and was given a great cheer.

The public galleries were cleared and diplomatic occupants given an opportunity to leave but all, including Kennedy, remained.

The house proceeded with questions for ten minutes, but later, following a consultation among the chief whips, the speaker of the house announced that Commons would stand suspended during the warning.

The entire chamber was then cleared, its occupants proceeding to shelters within the building. Questions on the order paper had been about half completed when the session was suspended.

The speaker announced the balance would be answered when the session was resumed.

District Patrolled

Royal Air Force fighters patrolled the London area at a great altitude during the alarm.

The new warning sounded after waves of German aircraft crossed the southeast coast. Some headed in the direction of London.

Simultaneously German formations appeared over a wide region stretching from southeast and southwest England to the midlands.

This afternoon it was reported two raiders had been shot down near the southeast coast.

The German planes probing for a weak spot in the British defenses attacked from various directions, using formations ranging from small to heavy, all strongly protected by pursuit craft.

GERMAN SKY-WRITES NAZI INSIGNIA IN LONDON SKY

LONDON, Sept. 5—A daring German pilot "sky-wrote" a swastika high over London this afternoon.

As members of the House of Commons were retreating to air raid shelters during the second alarm of the day, the Nazi plane—a mere speck in the distance—started to sketch the insignia of Adolf Hitler.

He succeeded in tracing what thousands clearly identified as a hooked cross before Royal Air Force fighters reached a sufficiently high altitude to drive him away.

Pickaway Countian Serves On Agricultural Group In 11th District

OBJECTIVES ANNOUNCED

Statement Made By Newly Formed Organization Concerning Plans

Organization of the Ohio Committee for Agriculture, a non-partisan group of farmers working for the election of President Roosevelt and Henry A. Wallace, was announced Thursday in Columbus.

The committee, composed of both Democrats and Republicans, held its first formal meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Neil House and outlined plans for conducting a campaign among farmers to return the Democratic national ticket to office in November. Ernest O. Myer, Buckeye Lake, Licking County farmer, is chairman of the committee.

In its first public statement the committee said: "We are frankly working for the election of President Roosevelt and Henry Wallace because they are the men best qualified to lead agriculture through the stormy days we know are coming. Only by the election of President Roosevelt and Henry Wallace do we believe that farmers stand a chance, not merely of consolidating their advance of the last seven years, but of advancing still farther toward the goal of an intelligently adjusted agriculture in a badly disorganized world."

Assisting in the organization of a permanent committee was William H. Sottle, a former Republican from Petroleum, Ind. He was chairman of the Roosevelt All-Party Committee in 1936. The Ohio committee is a branch of the National Committee for Agriculture, a group of farmers representing 13 northern central states.

Hunsicker Listed

The state committee, consisting of farmers representing all areas of the state, will meet next week to name sub-chairmen. The members are Mrs. Josephine Fichter, Oxford; Fred H. Steffen, Greenville; Ralph O. Brown, Hoytsville; and Clark K. Hunsicker, Circleville. Mr. Hunsicker will direct the committee's work in the 11th Ohio District.

The national committee, headed by Sottle and composed of the 13 state chairmen, held its organizational meeting July 23 in Chicago, where the farmers conferred with Wallace, Democratic vice-presidential nominee and former secretary of agriculture.

State Chairman Myer said hundreds of farmers have expressed interest in the movement, and that non-partisan farmer committees already are being formed in many counties and townships in the state.

In its statement the committee said: "Farmers traditionally have voted for the man and not for the party they represented. Farmers voted for Roosevelt in 1936 because they believed he was the only candidate who understood the farmer and who sincerely believed the welfare of agriculture was inextricably tied up with the welfare of the nation. For this reason we believe farmers this year will vote for Roosevelt and Wallace."

"This non-partisan committee is supporting Roosevelt and Wallace because they have done more than recognize the problems of the farmer—they have had the courage to translate their convictions into tangible help for the farmer."

Led Farmers' Fight

"When farm legislation finally was obtained, Roosevelt and Wallace carried on the fight for agriculture when others were willing to let the farmers struggle on alone. For the first time in history, they gave farmers a voice in the administration of their own program. They have demonstrated that farmers can rely on their leadership."

"We farmers do not want a Wall Street president willing merely to concede the present

Game Protector Lists Regulations for State

Because a majority of Ohio hunters favor a continuous hunting season over a staggered one, the Ohio Conservation Department has returned to a continuous open season for pheasants, beginning November 15 and running until November 30, both dates inclusive, Pickaway County Game Protector Clarence Francis announced.

This year pheasants and rabbits may be killed any day during the week with the exception of Sunday. On the opening day, the season will begin at 12 o'clock noon. Thereafter, throughout the season, hunting will be permitted from 7:30 a. m. until 5 p. m.

No more than two cock pheasants may be taken in any one day and not more than two days' bag limit of four cock pheasants shall be in any hunter's possession after the first day of the open season.

The law provides that a pheasant shall not be possessed if its sex identity has been destroyed. Sex pheasants shall not be taken at any time.

The rabbit season will open at noon, November 15, and will continue until January 1, 1947, both dates inclusive. A person may take no more than four rabbits in a day.

Open season for squirrels will be from September 25 to October 10, both dates inclusive, with a bag limit of four in one day. Duck season opens October 16 and continues to December 14, both dates inclusive, and corresponds with the open season for geese, brant, coot and jacksnipe. Ralls and gallinules may be taken from September 1 to November 30, and woodcock from October 10 to October 24.

Laws requiring a resident hunting license costing one dollar, with a 25 cent fee, and a duck stamp of one dollar for duck hunters, are the same as other years, Francis said. No person in the state, except the owner, manager, tenant, or the children of the owner, manager or tenant of lands within the state, may hunt and trap on such lands without a hunter's and trapper's license.

VOICE ... of the ... PEOPLE

Dear Editor:

In our little community a family of four, parents and twin babies, are at present living in an old corn-crib. They have boarded up the sides, screened the windows and crammed their small household belongings into a space 8 by 12 feet. Their nearest neighbors are the pigs across the fence. They carry all their water from a well 800 feet away.

The mother is worn thin by the demands of nursing two sturdy babies on an insufficient diet, and by the difficulty of keeping even a semblance of household neatness and cleanliness in her living quarters. The one single bed is extended by chairs to make sleeping accommodations for four people at night. Strangely enough, the children are fine, healthy specimen of childhood.

The father works odd days for farmers, and for WPA whenever possible.

I am convinced that a great number of people in Circleville would gladly rummage through stored-away furniture in attics to help this family get a start toward decent living conditions. I am sure that many a gardener or farmer would donate potatoes, or apples to help them out. Children's clothing could be procured and a new sense of decency could be brought into this family of American citizens.

But—and here is the crux of the story—there seems to be not even two or three rooms in the town available for them. A three-room house with a single faucet of cold water would represent luxury to them. They could probably pay a rent of $5.00; should the cost of housing go to $8.00, charity-inclined friends could help them out, at least temporarily.

But—there are no houses or rooms to meet their needs!

Surely in a town of this size there are people who could invest in the building of small three-room houses at a minimum cost, to meet the demands of decent living which is supposed to be an American heritage. An empty garage could be made into a real home, in comparison with the shack this family now occupies.

And winter is coming on.

The housing conditions in Circleville are pathetically inadequate. Are we so absorbed in over-seas tragedies that we fail to see those at our very doors? Why could not some of our organizations, as well as individuals, undertake a solution of our housing problem?

Is there not some practical way out?

A Questioner.

HEDY IN COURT TO ASK DIVORCE FROM G. MARKEY

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5—A divorce court finale was written today to the "dream romance" of beautiful Hedy Lamarr, film actress, and Gene Markey, the producer.

Slightly less than two months after their separation, Miss Lamarr filed suit for divorce late yesterday, charging cruel and inhuman treatment which she said caused her "grievous mental and physical suffering."

No specific instances of cruelty were listed however.

Married in Ensenada, Mexico, on March 4, 1939, in the climax to a whirlwind romance, the action marks the second divorce experience for each.

Miss Lamarr's first husband was the wealthy Austrian munitions maker, Fritz Mandl, from whom she was divorced after creating an international sensation by her appearance in the movie "Ecstasy."

The collapse of this marriage, it was reported, was hastened by Mandl's objections to the film, in which she flitted au naturel through a few scenes.

Markey was divorced by Screen Actress Joan Bennett in June 1937. After being in Markey's company at various Hollywood night clubs and social events for several months, Miss Lamarr eloped with him to Mexico.

But the romance only survived one year and four months of married life and they finally parted last July 6, according to the complaint.

Miss Lamarr asked the court to approve an agreement dated August 12 under which the couple was said to have settled all their property differences.

OHIO ADJUTANT NOT INFORMED OF GUARD CALL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5—Still insisting he had not been informed when the Ohio National Guard would be called out for a year's training, Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light today asserted the various units of the organization "could be ready to obey such an order within 24 hours."

The statement was made by Light after he had been informed by newspaper men of reports from Washington that the Ohio guards, comprised of 11,500 officers and men, would be ordered into training October 16.

"I have had no information from the War Department regarding the day the Ohio Guard may be called out for training," Light said. "Even when we were in camp in Wisconsin we heard rumors that we would not be allowed to return home."

He admitted, however, that Ohio guardsmen have been planning for the day they are to be called out for training. Sixty thousand guardsmen from other states are to start training September 16.

When they are called, it was understood the Ohio men would go into training at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Light declared Ohio guardsmen have received plenty of clothing from the war department but no large quantity of weapons. He added, however, that an undisclosed number of machine guns had been received recently.

WILLKIE ORDERS AIDES TO WORK HARD FOR VOTES

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Sept. 5 — Wendell Willkie today opened what he called "a fight to take the campaign right down into the precincts with the Republican organization."

At Willkie's bidding, national committee members and chairmen of 22 states met in Rushville to listen to a "pep" talk.

In the remarks which Willkie had prepared for them were these: "The campaign this fall is not an ordinary campaign. It's a crusade for national unity, rehabilitation of domestic economy and the building of a national defense."

"I call on each leader in the Republican party to go back to his state and get his organization into shape so the vote may be registered, organized and gotten to the polls on election day."

Early arrivals brought Willkie encouraging reports.

However he had this to say: "All of you have given me reports from all over the country of tremendous enthusiasm. That is not enough. We must be organized in the states, counties, cities and precincts."

Willkie's remarks were significant for they marked the first time since his nomination that he

TRAIN RIDER INJURED IN FALL; RIGHT ARM CUT OFF

A Vanceburg, Ky., train rider lost his right arm under a Norfolk & Western freight train Wednesday evening when he fell under the train near Hopetown, Ross County. Authorities said he was Russell Sammons, 28, and that he had been taken to Chillicothe Hospital after the accident.

Shortly before 7 p. m. Wednesday, Sammons walked to the residence of Fred Chester, displayed a bleeding stump of his right arm and said he fell under the train. Sammons said he had boarded the train to go to Kingston.

The severed arm was found along the right of way.

OHIO'S SWEENEY AND KENTUCKY SOLON IN FIGHT

Grey-Haired Democrat Says Wilson Led U. S. To War, And Causes Strife

HOUSE CONTEST BITTER

Series Of Amendments To Conscription Bill Up For Vote

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 — Embittered by a flat fight between two members and charges that the nation is heading for war, the House today neared a series of test votes on the controversial conscription bill which will fortify its ultimate fate.

As the battle moved into the amendment stage, administration leaders were confident of victory, while foes of the bill declared that they are gaining ground.

A fight on the house floor between Reps. Martin L. Sweeney, sharp-tongued Ohio member, and Beverly Vincent, fiery-tempered Kentuckian, both Democrats, climaxed closing of two days general debate last night.

Vincent, angered by Sweeney's charge that the administration is leading the nation into war by using the same tactics used by President Wilson in 1916 and 1917, called Sweeney a "traitor" as Sweeney sat down beside him.

Sweeney swung lustily for Vincent's nose and connected. The Kentuckian leaped to the fray and was pummeling the Gray-haired Ohioan when other congressmen intervened. Neither fisticuff was badly hurt.

Sweeney apologized to the House for the confusion he caused, but Vincent declared that Sweeney told an untruth in saying that President Wilson brought on the World War. He added that "the speech the gentleman made is proof that he is a traitor."

Accusation Withdrawn

As cries of "shame on you" arose, Democratic leaders persuaded Vincent to withdraw his accusation. Leaders indicated that no action will be taken to punish the belligerent members.

While the conscription bill appeared certain to pass, leaders of opposing factions declared that action on amendment may affect the final vote.

Rep. Sheppard (D) Calif., after a check of the house, said that the bill would pass by 20 to 28 votes. This margin is much smaller than that claimed by administration leaders.

Outstanding issues to be fought out include:

1. The Fish amendments postponing the draft for 60 days, during which a special drive for volunteers would be conducted.

2. Whether bill shall require registration of men from 21 to 31 years of age, as dictated by the senate, or 21 to 44, inclusive, as provided in the house bill.

3. Whether the President shall be authorized to send drafted men beyond continental United States. Under the senate bill he can send them any place in the Western Hemisphere, its island possessions, or the Philippine Islands.

4. Whether draftees shall number 1,000,000, as in house bill, or 900,000 as in senate bill.

5. The Smith amendment proposing a compromise for the senate conscription - of - industry amendment. The compromise authorizes commandeering of industrial plants for the five-year duration of the draft, if necessary rather than condemning of the plants, as provided in the senate bill. Under the Smith amendment plant owners would be compensated.

Wadsworth Speaks

Sponsors of the legislation rallied behind the declaration of Rep. James Wadsworth (R) N. Y., co-author of the bill with Sen. Burke (D) Neb., that it is designed to insure an army of 1,200,000 to protect Central and South America from any attempt by totalitarian powers to break down the Monroe Doctrine.

from Pennsylvania to the Pacific Coast, with a few exceptions. Pennsylvania, a poll indicated, will be split on the measure.

Rep. McGregor (R) O., said that a new poll showed that Ohio will vote 22 to two against the bill.

"I think Indiana will be unanimous, or virtually unanimous, against the bill," said Rep. Schulze (D) Ind. "Most Michigan members will oppose the measure."

The Illinois delegation was split. Rep. Martin (R) Ia., said that Iowa Republicans will oppose the measure solidly.

A canvass indicated that three California Republicans will support the bill, five will oppose it, that Democrats will divide 10 for and two against.

Rep. Cullen (D) N. Y., said that most New York Democrats will back conscription, while sentiment among New England members was divided.

"The South is for the bill because the people are for it," said Rep. Ramspeck (D) Ga. Texas Democrats strongly supported the measure, while Kansas was virtually unanimous against it.

For Thursday, September 5

WHILE things may be expected to hold their own on this day, judging by certain rather negative or adverse configurations, it will take some sagacity, discretion and good judgment. The especial menace seems to arise from some rather drastic action coming from a group source. This sinister force may operate with cunning, in deep-laid and obscure plots or schemes. It is possible that in a difficult and baffling situation the proverbial "woman's intuition" may be found illuminating, or an elder might assist.

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

If Mr. Roosevelt is elected and lives out his term he will have had twelve years in the White House. Before that he was governor of New York for four years. That makes sixteen. Every one of the first twelve has been operated at a deficit charged to the people. This is a world's record, at least in amount if not in time.

For sixteen years Mr. Roosevelt will have spent the saved earnings of the past and the mortgaged earnings of the future. For it is no longer even possible that he will live within federal income at any time in the next four years.

SOYBEAN TOUR SCHEDULED FOR NEXT TUESDAY

Invitations to a soybean tour and field day Tuesday are being sent to farmers and soybean growers in the county, County Agent F. K. Blair announced Thursday.

The tour will begin at 1:30 p. m. at the Ralston - Purina Company plant in Circleville, where all interested persons will meet to take an inspection trip through the soybean processing plant.

From the Ralston - Purina Company the group will go to the Ray Rowland farm on the Circleville-Kingston road in Pickaway Township, where six varieties of soybeans were seeded in experimental plots to determine which varieties are best adapted to Pickaway County. The varieties included Mandell, Dunfield, Illini, Mingo, Richland and one edible variety.

Experiments are divided into three acre plots. One half of each plot is fertilized and one half is not fertilized. In one plot the beans were seeded in rows 21 inches apart and cultivated twice. The results of this plot will be checked against solid seeding.

All interested persons have been invited to participate in the tour and in the discussion of soybean production and marketing problems.

We are living on rainbows painted by the President. "If" national income greatly increases, and "if" we have no new expenditures and "if" we maintain present rates of taxation, why then, some day, government income will equal outgo, the rabbit will come out of the hat and we will all live happily ever after. Well, the second "if" is already exploded. We do have new expenditures—national defense.

But even without war, if we were looking at the sleight-of-hand with the cold eye it deserves, we would see through the deception. It wholly omits the "business cycle" of good times and bad against which no statesman in any age have ever been able to lock the door. As Harry Scherman says in "The Real Danger in Our Gold" the rainbow assumes "that our national income, with an unchanged price level, will go beyond a peak only reached during two years in all our history, and then that it will stay above that peak permanently. In other words, that business cycles will end."!!

With the budget now hopelessly out of control the New Deal goes to the voters, not on facts, but on assumptions which there is not the slightest reason to believe and every historical reason to disbelieve. "It ain't goin' rain no more, no more." No war, no floods, no bank failures, no crop failures, no nation-wide strikes, no more pensions or bonuses for conscripted soldiers, no change in price level, no more business cycles, no bad times, nothing but good times and these better permanently than we now have or have ever had! On with the dance. And no fiddler to pay.

RULER BECOMES FIGUREHEAD AS PREMIER ACTS

Antonescu Calls For New Day For Romania As King Steps Down

(Continued from Page One) only the nominal powers of granting decorations and amnesty. Antonescu Has Full Power Under the new setup, Antonescu has the right to make new laws, control politics, administration and justice and decide on war or peace. He is in no way responsible to the king. Up to the time the war broke out, Carol was a moderately powerful monarch, but when the conflict came he assumed dictatorial powers and ruled without parliamentary hindrance. Under Antonescu, he will be nothing more than a "decorative prisoner" in his own palace. King Carol retired at 7 a. m., the very moment that Hungarian troops were crossing the Transylvanian border. There were persistent reports that Carol soon will abdicate, handing his throne to Crown Prince Michael. The king has been the target of popular criticism ever since the dismemberment of Romania began with cession of Bessarabia and northern Bukovina to Soviet Russia.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 5 — Under personal command of Regent Admiral Nicholas Horthy, jubilant Hungarian troops marched into Transylvania today as Romanian artillerymen threatened to bomb Iron Guard rebels holding police headquarters and the telephone exchange at Brasov. Installation of a new nationalist regime in Bucharest failed to put an end to the violent Iron Guard demonstrations of protest against cession of a large portion of Transylvania to Hungary. Admiral Horthy signaled the occupation by riding into the town of Satmar astride a white charger. He was greeted by thousands of wildly cheering Hungarians attired in their picturesque and richly-embroidered national costumes. The Hungarian soldiers accompanying the regent were showered with flowers by the populace. In the main square of the town, Horthy shook hands with representatives of all classes of the people. Hungarian police immediately took over administration of the occupied territory. The towns of Marmaros and Nagykároly were taken immediately after Satmar.

Brasov remained the focal point of the disturbances. The Iron Guards seized a general of gendarmerie and held him as hostage, while the rebels blanketed the streets surrounding police headquarters with a curtain of machine-gun fire. Romanian troops fired back at the demonstrators in an effort to restore order. At least seven soldiers were known to have been killed and several wounded. Late this morning, the local commander-in-chief at Brasov served an ultimatum on the rebels, threatening to open fire with heavy guns unless the municipal buildings are evacuated. Disturbances also were reported at Constanza, Sinaia and several other centers as Iron Guards and Communists—erstwhile foes—joined forces in the armed protests.

ACTOR SEEKS $200,000 FROM PRINTER, AUTHOR LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5 — Charging injury to his reputation and professional career, Screen Actor Errol Flynn today had on file in federal district court a $200,000 damage suit against a New York publishing firm, its printing house, and Constancia De La Mora, author. The publishing firm was Harcourt, Brace & Co. and the printing firm Quinn & Boden Company of New Jersey. Flynn's action claimed the author wrote a novel titled "In Place of Splendor, the Autobiography of a Spanish Woman," in which it would be understood that the plaintiff "would stoop to any and all sorts of means for the purpose of obtaining publicity." He referred to excerpts from the book relating to a certain incident that took place when Flynn was in Spain prior to 1939 and was wounded during the revolution.

ROTARIANS HEAR ADDRESS BY OHIO HEALTH OFFICIAL

"Give your kids a little more of yourselves," Dr. A. W. Thomas, of the division of Child Hygiene State Department of Health, told 45 Rotarians at their luncheon meeting in the American Hotel Thursday noon.

Speaking on the subject of public health, Dr. Thomas stated that health problems among children were primarily problems for the parents, and suggested that parents cultivate hobbies and interests in their children which would add to their physical development. He said that he believed the churches and schools in Circleville could do much as community centers to supplement parent efforts with recreational programs for Circleville children.

DOG RACING PROBED

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5—Governor Bricker today ordered Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert to conduct a special grand jury investigation into the "conduct and operation" of dog racing in Portage County.

The unluckiest man in the world, says Zadok Dumbkopf, is the international spy who is arrested and shot while on vacation.

JURORS THROW OUT COMPLAINT CITING MUMAW

New Holland, and his 35 year old housekeeper, Pearl Blanton, were indicted on forgery charges. Chandler and his housekeeper were arrested August 15 by Police Chief William McCrady and Sheriff Charles Radcliff after several weeks investigation. After their arrest, both Chandler and Miss Blanton confessed having cashed more than $100 worth of bad checks with Circleville merchants. Two other alleged forgers were indicted. One was Joseph Leach, of Circleville, arrested by Sheriff Radcliff and Chief McCrady after he had cashed a forged check with a local gas station attendant.

The other was Homer Self, 56, alias Charles Norton, Washington C. H., arrested by Deputy Bryan Custer last Saturday night for passing at least two forged checks with Circleville merchants. Self is on parole from Ohio Penitentiary for forgery.

Four persons, bound over the grand jury on assault and battery charges, were indicted. They were Clyde Bates, 33, and Ollie Bates, of South Pickaway Street, and Loretta Coy and Lester Coy, 31, of Ashville. Charges were filed by Frieda Hoffman, Mill Street, and Helen McCain, South Washington Street. Officers who made the arrest, said the dispute developed over the ownership of a house in the south-side area.

For carrying concealed weapons, George Bunn, 19, of Circleville, received an indictment. He was arrested last Saturday night by local police who found a .38 calibre revolver in his pocket.

Other indictments included Howard Edward Grano, Chicago, for non-support, and William Davis, charged May 29 with menacing threats.

Two cases charging traffic violations and one charging removing mortgaged property were ignored by the jury.

There were four secret indictments.

Arraignment for those indicted will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday before Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger.

TWO FUGITIVES SHOT BY POLICE IN TILLER, ARK.

TILLER, Ark., Sept. 5 — Two more convicts—members of a group of 36 who Monday staged the biggest prison break in Arkansas' penal history—were shot and killed by police near Tiller today.

The slain prisoners were identified as James Scott, 21, who was serving a one-year sentence for robbery, and Raymond Harold, 24, who was under a 21-year sentence for grand larceny.

They brought to four the total number of prisoners shot to death since the prison break occurred.

Bruce Fowler, another convict, was shot to death yesterday in a spectacular gun battle with police on the Mississippi River bridge at Vicksburg, Miss., while Frank Conley was shot and killed by a posse near Columbia, La.

The other persons killed were Claude Martin, a trusty guard at the prison farm from which the prisoners escaped, and F. C. Gartman, a special deputy at Columbia, La.

The convicts killed this morning were believed to have been members of a group of about six who were sighted yesterday near Watson, Ark.

MEXICAN SENATORS NAME ALMAZAN, THEN HIDE AWAY

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5—Some 230 Almazanista senators and deputies were in hiding today after they met secretly and declared Gen Juan Andreu Almazan president-elect of Mexico.

They acted in the name of the "General Congress of the United Mexican States" — a rival of the official congress which has declared Gen Manuel Avila Camacho, administration candidate, the president-elect.

A score or more of the Almazanistas sought refuge in foreign legations after their congress issued a manifesto attacking President Lazaro Cardenas and his Mexican Revolutionary Party, and charging Almazan was duly voted into office in the recent presidential election.

The manifesto stated the people of Mexico are "resolved this time to defend their liberty of thought and action."

WAVES OF NAZI BOMBERS CROSS CHANNEL REGION

(Continued from Page One) for the veritable tornado of anti-aircraft fire which greeted every appearance of German planes. There were numerous reports of air combats over several south-eastern points and also reports of numerous planes shot down.

BERLIN, Sept. 5—Twenty British planes were shot down by German chaser planes in dogfights over the English south coast, it was announced today. Five German planes were admitted missing.

Most of the British planes were destroyed in air combats following attacks on the Bigginhill and Henley airports, between the Kent coast and London, early this morning, according to the announcement.

An official German statement said confagurations were observed at several points as a result of the German raids.

It added that British pursuit planes vainly attempted to prevent the German raiders from carrying out their mission and that all but one of the German planes returned to their bases.

The British raiders dropped high explosive bombs on the Nazi capital only a few hours after Chancellor Hitler warned that enemy bombs on German soil would be returned at the ratio of 100 to one.

Air raid warning sirens screamed in the city at ten minutes after midnight. Two hours and two minutes later the all-clear signal sounded.

An official announcement stated:

"The Royal Air Force planes dropped explosive bombs on two places. One fell on the Tiergarten (a large park in central Berlin), where a policeman was killed.

"The second hit an army storehouse in the northwestern suburb without causing any considerable damage.

"One residence in a southeastern suburb was damaged by splinters from an anti-aircraft shell.

"An explosive bomb hit a workers' settlement in a small town southeast of Berlin, killing one worker and wounding another."

The hit on the military storehouse marked the first German admission that a military objective within Berlin had been damaged.

Another official announcement said that British raiders during the night also bombed the world-famous spa at Kissingen, setting fire to the roof of a sanatorium where several patients were slightly injured.

PARALYSIS TOLL SOARS TO 14; CASES REPORTED

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5 — The death of Dallas Mussbaum, 8, in Wayne County today brought to 14 the number of deaths from infantile paralysis reported to State Health Director R. H. Markwith.

Meanwhile, 12 new cases were reported, making a total of 183 in the state so far this year. The cases were in Champaign, Knox, Ashtabula, Montgomery, Lawrence, Scioto, Wayne and Butler Counties.

Markwith said there are now 63 active cases in the state.

NAVY TO TRAIN YOUTHS AS RADIO, SIGNAL MEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—The navy today announced plans to set up seven schools in six districts to train at least 4,000 youths "between the ages of 17 and 35" as radio men and signal men. Enlistment will start immediately.

Those enlisting will be given a four-month course as naval reservists at a pay ranging from $21 to $60 a month. After they have completed the four-month course, they will be eligible for three months active duty in the navy either on ships or at shore stations.

DAVEY DENIES CLEAN POLITICS ACT VIOLATIONS

Democratic Nominee Laughs
At Bricker's Charges
Concerning Letters

PENSION VOTE SOUGHT

State Politics Beginning
To Gain Impetus As Election Nears

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5—On the eve of the Democratic state convention, former Gov. Martin L. Davey today denied charges by Republican state officials that he had violated the Hatch "clean politics" Act in his campaign for support in the gubernatorial campaign.

In a letter to the Federal Security board, State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood asserted that Davey was soliciting the support of thousands of old age pensioners for votes in violation of federal regulations. Davey is opposing Governor Bricker in the November election.

Sherwood stated that in his letter he told federal authorities that Davey "in some manner" had obtained recent lists of old age pensioners. In letters to pensioners, Sherwood asserted that Davey was telling them that if he is elected he would guarantee them full $40 monthly pensions.

All Talk Bunk

From his Kent home, Davey admitted that he had written letters to pensioners, but added that "All this talk about the Hatch Act as it relates to me is pure bunk."

"Mr. Bricker wrote all the old age pensioners in the campaign of 1938 and made them definite and important promises," Davey said.

He broke all those promises. "Now that I have written the old age pensioners and made certain commitments, I am going to be different. I am going to keep my promises. Evidently this situation has brother Bricker worried."

Discussing his letter, Sherwood said that the federal board has taken the position that any use of pension lists for other than the purpose for which they were intended was a violation of regulations.

Other Republican officials recalled that during Davey's second administration, the board withheld $1,800,000 in federal funds for pensions from Ohio because of a controversy over administration of the act.

At present, pensioners receive an average of $22 per month "on the basis of individual needs." Some receive the maximum of $30 per month. Under legislation passed at a special session of the General Assembly last Spring, the maximum will be raised to $40 next January.

At the Democratic state convention, which opens tomorrow, it was understood that party leaders hoped to include the state campaign platform a promise to old age pensioners that if the party's slate is elected, efforts would be made to give every eligible person the maximum of $40.

Promises Voiced

Republican state officials intimated that such promises were made to pensioners in political letters sent to them recently.

In connection with alleged use of official lists of aged, Sherwood intimated that Davey apparently had obtained the names and addresses from Auditor of State Joseph T. Ferguson's office. Ferguson, a Democrat, is seeking reelection. Deputy Norman E. Beck said he had no knowledge of the controversy.

Further denials of Republican charges are expected to be made by Davey and other Democratic leaders at the state convention session tomorrow and Saturday.

The conclave is to get under way with a session in Columbus auditorium tomorrow at 2 p. m. Earl H. Hanefeld, former chairman of Crowell is now president of the Central National Bank of Cleveland, but also has been for many years president of the Army Ordnance Association, thus has kept closely in touch with the munitions problem.

His job with Stimson is to rush the production of munitions and make sure there is no lost motion between the National Defense Commission and the War Department.

WALLACE AND NEGRO VOTE
It was no accident that Henry Wallace made his Labor Day address before the Afro-American Exposition in Chicago. Inside fact is that Roosevelt politicians are counting on Wallace to help swing the Negro vote, which now holds the balance of power in such key cities as New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Chicago.

Wallace's influence with colored voters comes from the fact that he once made a speech on racial equality. The first speech was made in a northern city and attracted little attention. Later he the party's state central committee, will preside.

At Friday night's session, National Committeeman Charles Sawyer, Cincinnati, who defeated Davey in the gubernatorial primary in 1938 will preside. The principal speaker is to be Congressman T. V. Smith, of Illinois. Davey is to be the principal speaker at the closing session Saturday afternoon.

POT O' GOLD ROBBERS

Los Angeles police are looking for a ring of vandals who decided this week to get their own "Pot O' Gold" from Horace Heidt's bandmen, currently in Los Angeles for radio broadcasts of the "Pot O' Gold" program and for the Jimmy Roosevelt picture of the same name.

Robbers have broken into four of the band members' cars within the week, their last job done Wednesday night when they burgled Saxophonist Buddy Shaffer's private garage, broke the locks on his car and stole his band unit-form, his music stand and his entire musical library.

Locks were broken, wheels ripped off and accessories stolen previously from the parked cars of Ollie O'Toole; Jimmy Skiles and Mainerd Baker.

No clues as to identity of the vandals have been reported by the time the band departed Friday morning for their appearance Labor-Day week-end at the Sacramento State Fair.

BERLIN CLAIMS S E A VICTORIES

Six British Destroyers,
Ships In Convoy Hit
By Submarines

BERLIN, Sept. 5—Destruction of six British destroyers in the last few days by German naval units was announced by the German high command today.

A special bulletin stated that a German speedboat sank a destroyer of the Imogene class off the English east coast last night.

The high command's special bulletin also stated that a German speedboat flotilla last night torpedoed and sank five armed and fully loaded enemy merchant ships which were being conveyed by a strong force.

The sunken ships totalled 39,000 tons, including a 12,000-ton tanker, the statement said. Another steamer was heavily damaged and the convoy was completely scattered, it was claimed.

At the same time, the regular German war communiqué stated: "During the last few days the German navy has sunk five British destroyers."

"Apart from two destroyers sunk by submarines, as announced September 2, three modern British comedy sequences of "The Thin Man" with Myrna Loy.

When Radio Theatre raises its curtain on Monday, September 9, listeners will hear this popular romantic team supported by Don Ameche in the exciting thriller which helped them up the ladder of success.

RADIO BRIEFS

destroyers, the Express, Esk and Ivanhoe, also were sunk.

"One submarine also sank several strongly convoyed armed enemy merchant ships totalling 27,000 tons.

"Bomber and chaser units yesterday repeatedly and effectively bombed airports, airplane factories, munitions depots, hangars and barracks. Hits were scored on an airplane motor factory at Rochester and an airplane factory at Weybridge.

"During these attacks several air combats developed. They were victorious for our chasers.

"During the night bomber units mainly attacked docks and piers on the west and east coasts of England and also several airports, causing numerous fires at Liverpool, Swansea, Bristol, Weymouth, Poole, Chatham, Tilbury, Great Yarmouth and Hull.

"During the night British planes again penetrated Reich territory. An attempt to attack Berlin failed owing to strong anti-aircraft fire."

"At only two places did the enemy succeed in dropping bombs on the city proper, which caused only insignificant damage, as elsewhere in the Reich.

"A bomb fell on a workers barracks in a northern German city, killing 18 civilians outside air raid shelters.

"The enemy yesterday lost 57 planes, including 54 during daytime air combats, one shot down by anti-aircraft fire at night and two destroyed on the ground.

"Seventeen German planes are missing."

FORMER FRENCH LEADERS FACING EARLY ARRESTS

ROME, Sept. 5—The newspaper Messaggero reported from Berne, Switzerland, today that Gen. Maurice Gamelin, former French commander-in-chief, and three former French government leaders will be arrested today because of their part in events leading to the French military debacle.

Along with Gamelin, said the dispatch, former Premiers Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud and former Interior Minister Georges Mandel will be placed under arrest.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints of urine a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SOUTH AMERICAN AIR BASE

BRASIL is the country which experts expect Hitler to use as a bridgehead if he seeks to invade the Western Hemisphere. Brazil's eastern coastline bulges into the Atlantic farther than any other part of the Americas and narrows the expanse of ocean between the New and Old worlds. Furthermore, Brazil itself is not well prepared for self defense against a powerful invader.

For these reasons there is now the possibility of the United States seeking a naval air base in Brazil to safeguard the South Atlantic. One plan is said to propose a defense line which would run from Newfoundland to Natal, Brazil, then west to Hawaii and north to Alaska. That area is regarded as defensible, while the entire Western Hemisphere is not.

Brazil has been inclined to lean on the United States more than some of the South American republics. It might be willing to cooperate in a program of this sort, especially as most of the expense and responsibility would be Uncle Sam's.

SPORT REVOLUTION

THE new French government at Vichy has few inhibitions. It is doing many surprising things, both good and bad. Americans will be interested in its handling of athletic sports.

The "Minister of Youth," Jean Ybarne-garay, has suppressed professional boxing, wrestling, soccer, rugby and all other paid sports except cycling, whose fate is still uncertain. His order completely abolishes French football.

Organized athletics will be limited to one club in towns of less than 50,000 population, and newspaper sport writers must reduce the space given to sports and quit glorifying individual players. This is done, the government explains, because sport stars have had too much attention in the newspapers, in comparison with the services rendered to society by scientists and inventors. The government will create a system of "state athletics" and form public teams to compete internationally.

There may be a good deal of common sense in this program, mixed with its absurdities. From a severely rational viewpoint, our own sports could profitably be overhauled and modified. Some Americans have thought that half the energy and publicity given to our system of athletics, if devoted to education and culture, would advance civilization to a miraculous extent.

But we can't be so sure of that. Nations like the British and Americans, apparently wasting enormous amounts of time and energy on athletics, seem justified when war comes, and they turn their manly vigor and sporting ideals to patriotic service.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE.... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An

Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a fine morning after a restless night, one of those unpleasant experiences that come to all of us and prompt us to remark to friends that "I didn't sleep ten minutes last night." That statement always is on the exaggerated side. Downed my coffee and headed for the post. Received a letter from the Ohio Public Health Association reminding me that Christmas is not so far away. All about a meeting to boost sale of Christmas seals.

All about the ville talk of England acquiring those 50 destroyers. Everyone seems to think the transfer should have been made, but most folk I have met object to the President's method. Their attitude is not consistent, for as John Ryan says, England needs those destroyers in this war, not several years from now, and congress can't make up its mind in a hurry on anything.

Chatted with Joe Lynch just back from the National Guard war games in Wisconsin and learned that the guard needs a lot more training before it is fit for combat. At one time in the battle game one battery found itself eight miles out ahead of the front line. Good thing that was mimic war else all those men would have been rubbed out.

Heard over the radio a debate between a representative of business and one man representing labor. The business man was asked whether he thought the administration's attitude toward business is hindering recovery and he countered by asking the question: "Did you ever hear of a farmer increasing his egg production by throwing rocks at his hens?"

Met Dr. Cromley, the Ashville vet, and he told of a case that is a real believe it or not. Has an injured half grown dog in his hospital. That dog was playing in his back yard with a butterfly and in his chase fell over a flower and broke his hip.

Came a note from the Rev. Emil Toensmeier, now of Kent, Conn., who said that he receives his Herald regularly and reads it thoroughly with much interest. Also a pleasing comment on quality.

Local Democrats are looking forward with interest to helping take over Columbus Friday for their party. Martin Davenport sent me a letter a few days ago calling attention to the session and urging that I attend. Martin never misses a bet and he remains, I think, the smartest politician in Ohio. He even sends personal letters to voters he knows are not for him. Does no harm, either.

Horne in the evening to read and listen in as the Reds took over Pittsburgh in that extra inning battle. I have no doubt that the Reds are in and I wish I could feel as confident about Cleveland. Certainly would like to see an All-Ohio Series. That really would be something.

HOUSE TO OKEH CONSCRIPTION

WASHINGTON—Real test facing the conscription bill in the House isn't the plan to "draft industry". Despite Wendell Willkie's blast, the chamber will approve some form of legislation empowering the Government to conscript industry as well as men.

Also the chances are strong that the House will pare down the 21-to-45 age limit to the 21-to-31 range already fixed by the Senate. The toughest hurdle against the bill is the same little-noticed one that nearly stopped it in the Senate.

This was the amendment sponsored by Senators Hayden of Arizona and Tydings of Maryland, postponing the draft for 60 days during which the Army would conduct an intensified recruiting drive. Then, if an insufficient number of men had been obtained, the remainder would be made up by conscription.

Offered in the closing hours of the Senate battle, the plan came within a hair's breadth of passage, being defeated only by two votes, 43 to 41, the closest vote on the legislation. Reason for this was the postponement feature of the amendment.

Facing a hard and uncertain election, the Senators, even though favoring the draft, are fearful about putting it into operation until after November 15. Army plans do not contemplate setting conscription machinery into motion until around November 15, but the politicians prefer not to take even the remotest chances.

They almost put the 60-day postponement across in the Senate, where only one-third of the members are up for election. What will happen in the House, where every Congressman faces the polls, remains to be seen.

MINISTER OF MUNITIONS

There is a very human story behind the appointment of Benedict Crowell, who was Assistant Secretary of War under Woodrow Wilson, to aid Secretary of War Stimson in speeding up national defense orders.

It results from an old friendship between Stimson and Crowell dating back to the post-war days, when Crowell was indicted on charges of misappropriating public money in connection with World War orders. Crowell was in charge of munition purchases during the war, and when the Harding Administration got into power, it put into the Justice Department Harry Daugherty of Teapot Dome fame, who had been an old enemy of Crowell's in Ohio politics.

Shortly thereafter, Crowell was indicted on charges brought by Daugherty's Justice Department.

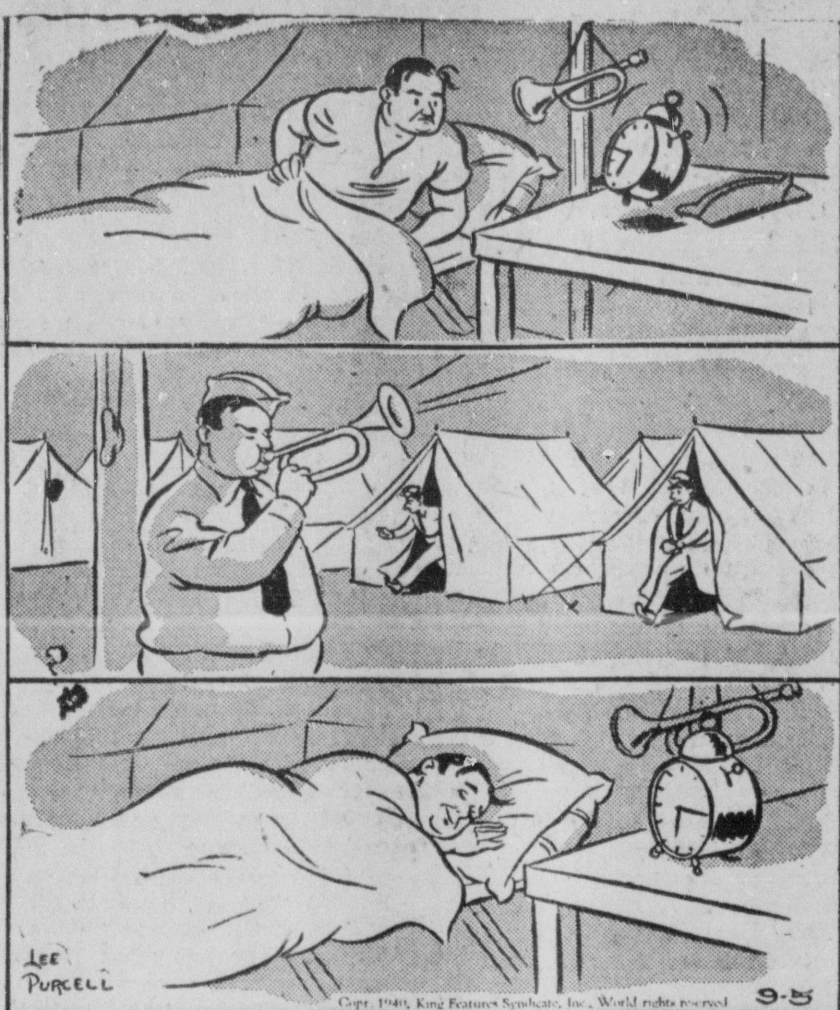

This aroused the indignation of Henry L. Stimson, who had been Secretary of War in the Taft Administration, a colonel of field artillery in the World War, and knew how easy it was to charge an executive with maladministration of funds. So Stimson, a Republican, went to Crowell, a Democrat, and offered to defend him.

The charges against Crowell were phoney and nothing came of them. But this started a firm friendship which has continued ever since.

And when Stimson first was appointed Secretary of War by Roosevelt, Crowell came to help him by making a survey of the entire War Department situation. At

When Baby Is An Air Swallower

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● FREQUENT vomiting in babies and young children is a troublesome and worrisome condition. Perhaps it is not strange that in examining the histories of a series of such babies Dr. Richard L. Nelson, of Texas, found that there had been frequent changes of food and formulae, and also frequent changes of doctors. He is inclined to believe, however, that the changes of food and doctors is more the cause of the spells of vomiting than the consequence. The type of food given is not as often the cause of frequent spells of vomiting as some other factors.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Treatment should be directed at the cause of the vomiting.

Air Swallowing

Among common and simple, as well as often overlooked, causes is air swallowing. This is due to improper technique of feeding—improperly shaped nipples on the feeding bottles, or nipples with the holes too large or too small, failure to remove the nipple from the baby's mouth often enough, or feeding in the supine position, or pacifiers or finger-sucking. Breast-fed infants are subject to air-swallowing from flat or inverted nipples or sucking at empty breasts.

Too frequent feeding is another cause. Babies should not be fed oftener than every three hours. Still another mistake is too much food. The baby may regurgitate or actually vomit simply because it is overloaded with food. The food of the vomiting baby, however, should not be diluted. It requires a more concentrated formula with less water.

Too Rich Food

The faults that are found in the food formulae themselves are usually that they are too rich in cream. This invariably causes vomiting in some children. Spoilage of food due to improper refrigeration may have to be considered. Both of these problems may be met by changing to a dried milk preparation and preparator of individual feedings. "Curd tension" used to be considered at length by specialists in child feeding. Too tough curds is a more understandable term. It can generally be overcome by boiling the cow's milk formula or adding lactic acid to the formula, or by using evaporated milk.

Any general condition which affects the baby's health should have attention—obscure infections, etc. Of course, every physician is alert to the possibility of an obstruction to the outlet of the stomach which occurs in young children and causes persistent vomiting from birth. But this is a rare condition, and besides the vomiting is continuous, which is not exactly the problem we are considering here. Severe constipation may be a cause. It can be relieved by correcting the formula or by the use of mineral oil.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. C.:—"Will you give us a talk on bran? Is it harmful for certain people? Good for others? If harmful, what would the symptoms be?"

Answer:—Bran is not digested or changed in the intestines to any extent, and therefore acts as a foreign body. For those who have sluggish elimination this is a good thing. Many people, however, have intestines that are too sensitive to stand bran successfully. Bran irritates them and does them harm. The symptoms of this are abdominal discomfort, gas and diarrhea.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. ### READ THIS FIRST:

Returning from a nerve-racking assignment, Gun Cotton, famous Scotland Yard agent, goes to Sleightner's Egyptian Bath, where he becomes interested in a mysterious stranger named Pullinger, who is wearing a tattooed Egyptian symbol. Pullinger is met by a beautiful flame-haired girl at the swimming pool in the baths. Gun calls another agent, Coffin Prescott, to trail Pullinger. The agent sees Pullinger again meet a flame-haired girl and trails the pair, but loses them. Gun goes to visit a friend and meets a girl with flame-colored hair who apparently came out of his friend's house. The friend, Watson, says the girl is the secretary of a business acquaintance and came around to pick up some papers.

CHAPTER TWELVE

"YES," commented X the following morning, when he had heard all that Gun had to say about it. "That's all very interesting—very interesting indeed! But we can put it aside for the moment, Gun, because I've got a nice little job for you that will be right after your own heart. Because it means going up into the air, my lad!"

"You mean—flying?" Gun's voice betrayed an unusual eagerness, and X smiled.

"Just that," he agreed. "But I warn you it may not be just a joy-ride. And you won't be the pilot, either, I'm afraid!"

"I see!" There was disappointment in Gun's voice. He liked to do his own flying. "Well, what do I do, anyway? And what's it all about, if one's allowed to ask so personal a question?"

X, who was well aware that his reticence was something of a grievance with his people, acknowledged the faint sarcasm with an equally faint smile.

"I don't know that I am prepared to tell you all the details," was his reply. "In any case, they are largely a matter of conjecture and suspicion, as yet. Perhaps this flight of yours will make things a little clearer—at any rate, I am hoping so! I need not ask you if you have heard about the missing bomber plane?"

Gun smiled. "It was a front-page story in every national newspaper some months ago!"

"Exactly!" said X. Then he asked abruptly: "Had you any theories?"

"Nothing very definite," Gun confessed. "As a matter of fact, I'm afraid I was too much concerned with our affairs to give it much thought!"

"Well, I have!" said X, a trifle grimly. "I've given it quite a lot of thought, and I have several theories. It's in connection with these—or with one in particular—that you're to make this flight. And that's about all I can tell you at the moment!"

But Gun's lazy brown eyes were alight with eagerness and, leaning forward in his chair, he ventured one more question:

"Do you mean that—you suspect foul play in the case of this missing plane?"

X hesitated.

"Yes! But, mark you, it's only a suspicion as yet!"

"I see!" said Gun, but the excitement in his eyes had not abated. "It sounds interesting, anyway. Now, what are my instructions?"

From under his blotting-pad X extracted a section of map.

"This," he explained, "covers a portion of the Essex coast. You may as well know the lay of the land. Here, you will observe, is Southend and the mouth of the Thames. A little higher, up here past Burnham, is Bradwell. Then comes the mouth of the River Blackwater, and beyond that Mersea Island, Brightlingsea and Clacton. Now, working inland from Brightlingsea toward Colchester, we find Wivenhoe. And between Wivenhoe and Brightlingsea this little cross marks Belthorn—once a tiny hamlet, and still little more except that just beside it is the Belthorn aerodrome—the new 'hush-hush' station where all the latest and most secret types of war planes are tried out and housed . . ."

X paused, and Gun's finger stabbed the map.

"And here," he remarked, "only a mile or two away toward the sea, is Chencham, where Charles Cazelton is!"

"Quite so," agreed X gravely.

There was a slight pause, then X continued:

"When you leave here you will pack a bag—as well to travel light, though—and make straight for the Belthorn air station. I suggest you go down by road. At Belthorn you'll find a man I believe you know—Squadron Leader Hazeldene."

"Tommy Hazeldene—why, of course I know him!" cried Gun. "A damned good fellow, too!"

"Yes, I believe he is—and, curiously enough, he said much the same thing about you. The regard is evidently mutual," smiled X. "Well, Hazeldene will be your host there. He's expecting you. This evening you will dine as a guest of the mess there. Later, Hazeldene will set out on a night 'hush-hush' flight with an entirely new type of warplane—said to be the very last word in that direction . . ."

Here, for some reason which Gun could not fathom, X smiled broadly, as though enjoying a quiet joke to himself.

"You will go to the hangar with him—and at the very last moment—no mention of it is to be made beforehand, mark you—you will decide that you would like to go up with him, and he will take you."

X paused, drumming lightly on the desk with his pencil.

"I see!" said Gun, and waited for more. But X went on drumming.

"And what happens then?" Gun asked after a moment of silence.

X shook his head.

"I don't know. Perhaps nothing in particular—perhaps quite a lot. This is by way of being a little experiment, you see, and it's impossible to say just how it will turn out. But when you are up you will get certain instructions from me by radio. I shall use the F.2 Code, and all genuine messages from me will be prefaced by the word 'Tom!'—spelled as you spell it. You will send all your replies with the same word, spelled in the ordinary way, with a 'Y.' Are you clear on that?"

"Yes," replied Gun, more than a little mystified. "But . . ."

"Then off you go!" interrupted X, briskly.

And Gun, more than ever dissatisfied with X's lack of loquacity, but with a rising sense of excitement within him, went off to make his preparations for adventure.

Kipling may sing of Sussex-by-the-sea, but the beauties and charm of Essex are more carefully concealed, and of a different nature.

From the moment he swung the car out of Colchester, Gun began to feel a sense of melancholy and foreboding creeping over him, which increased and crept faster after he was through Wivenhoe. The very flatness of the country in itself was depressing enough, and the sense of depression was deepened by the fact that it had been raining hard, so that everything was wet and dripping, and the dull, leaden skies and damp, chill breeze that whistled mournfully past his ears did nothing to improve matters in the slightest degree.

The road he was on stretched ahead and behind him in a straight, flat, unbroken line. On either side was a vast waste of bogs, fens and marshes, which were throwing off a dank, gray mist, making the tall, slender poplars look like ghosts, and the twisted, grotesque alders like malignant dancing wharves.

At the sound of the car sea birds swung up from the marshes with harsh, discordant, wailing cries, and nowhere was there a human being in sight.

Now, in the distance, he could see a pile of low, gray buildings, which he took to be his destination, the Belthorn air station and, cheerless as it looked, he was delighted to see it.

He slowed down as the road took a curve, and then ran past an untidy cluster of buildings, which Gun guessed was Belthorn. There were two or three tumble-down cottages—not very much better than hovels—a small farm (a little apart from the others), a decrepit general shop and a low-storied, dirty-looking inn.

For once in his life Gun felt inclined to thank his stars he was not an airman. A few weeks at Belthorn station and he wouldn't have a nerve left to fly with!

Bride-to-Be Guest Of Honor at Younkin Home

Irene Pontius To Marry Saturday Evening

Four hostesses, Mrs. Carl Younkin, Mrs. Lou West, Miss Lola Paye and Miss Marjorie Younkin, entertained delightfully Wednesday at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Irene Pontius of Thatcher. Miss Pontius will become the bride of Mr. Floyd E. Younkin of Commercial Point at an evening wedding Saturday in the Avondale United Brethren Church of Columbus.

The party was at the home of Mrs. Howard Younkin, Commercial Point, the attractive decorations following a color theme of pink and green. Large vases of late summer flowers made a lovely background for the affair. The shower arrangement above the table in dining room where the gift packages were placed included a ring of pink with many silver bells.

Games, contests and music entertained the guests during the evening, about 25 being present for the occasion.

After the many beautifully wrapped packages were opened by Miss Pontius, the hostesses served a salad course.

Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Harold Pontius and daughter, Barbara, Mrs. Dwight Dunkle, Miss Josephine Wolfe, Miss May Katherine Rife and Miss Louise Fischer were present from the Circleville community in addition to the bride-elect, others coming from Columbus and Commercial Point for the occasion.

Emmett's Chapel Aid
The meeting of the Emmett's Chapel Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sam Dearth, Pickaway Township, was devoted to business under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Wright, president.

After a brief devotional service, Mrs. Wright appointed a finance committee which will include church improvement in its duties. It is comprised of Mrs. Harry Sohn, Mrs. Austin Wilson, Mrs. Harrison Wolf, Miss Marie Dumm, Mrs. E. C. Wilkins and Mrs. Ralph Boggs.

Mrs. Lorin Dudson was named to send cards to the sick, and Miss Edith Graves was made news reporter.

Summer flowers made the home attractive for the affair.

Mrs. Dearth, assisted by Mrs. John Dearth, served lunch to 17 members and the several visitors present for the occasion.

The October session will be at the home of Miss Aida Bartley, Mrs. Burr Rader and Miss Gladys Rader being named as assisting hostesses.

Bougher Reunion

Officers were reelected for the coming year when the thirty-second annual reunion of the Bougher family was held at the stone shelter house, Rising Park, Lancaster. Mrs. D. C. Rader, Circleville, is president; Miss Evelyn Schein, Gibsonville, vice president; Miss Edna Bougher, Lancaster, secretary-treasurer and Miss Effa Bougher, Logan, historian.

Approximately 200 were present including friends and relatives from Circleville, Celina, Lancaster, Columbus, Logan, Webb Summit, Rockbridge and Gibsonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Rader, who were married 47 years last March, were the oldest married couple there, Mr. and Mrs. Boyles of Rockbridge being the youngest. Daniel Bougher of Webb Summit has attended the 32 reunions.

Miss Effie Walker and Miss Grace Kegg were present from the Circleville community in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Rader.

Jolly Time Club

All members were present Wednesday when the Jolly Time Club met at the home of Mrs. Russell Miller, East High Street, for its monthly session. Mrs. Elmer Merriman was a visitor for the meeting and was admitted as a new member of the club.

A contest in charge of Mrs. Francis Cardiff was won by Mrs. Merriman.

After the social hour, the hostess served delightful refreshments.

The next session will be at the

COUNCIL VOTES SIX-YEAR ORDINANCE WITH GAS COMPANY

REVISED RATES TO BE STARTED IN THIRTY DAYS

Saving Of $10,000 During First Year Promised By Executive

LIGHT ISSUE DISREGARDED

50-Foot No Parking Zone To Be Established In Front Of School

Within thirty days Circleville consumers will be paying for gas under a new reduced rate ordinance passed by unanimous vote of City Council at its meeting Wednesday evening.

Rates for the first three years of the new contract, which will become effective within 30 days, are 20 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the first 500 cubic feet, 5 1/2 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the next 4,500 cubic feet, and 5 cents for each 100 cubic feet for all over 5,000 cubic feet.

The new ordinance will save Circleville customers over $10,000 the first year, Frank Phillips, Athens, district manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, informed councilmen. Over a six year period, it is estimated that a $42,000 savings will be made.

During the next three years of the eight-year contract, rates will be 20 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the first 500 cubic feet, 6 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the next 4,500 cubic feet, 5 1/2 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the next 5,000 cubic feet, and 5 cents for each 100 cubic feet for all over 10,000 cubic feet.

For the last two years of the contract, rates will be the same as those at the present time; that is, 20 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the first 500 cubic feet, 7 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the next 1,500 cubic feet, 6 cents for each 100 cubic feet for the next 3,000 cubic feet, 5 1/2 cents for each 100 cubic feet for all over 10,000 cubic feet. The existing ordinance was to expire in November.

Under the new contract, a minimum monthly bill will be $1, with a delayed payment charge of 5 percent, to be no less than 10 cents, to be added to the charge if not paid within 10 days after the bill for the monthly reading has been issued.

No Action Taken On Light Question

No official action was taken Wednesday evening on either the present street light litigation, or on the proposal for a new street lighting ordinance, although it was generally understood that Council would take action as soon as an ordinance concerning the matter has been drawn up.

Parking Limitation Granted To School

Acting on the recommendation of the Circleville board of education, council, Wednesday, passed

Envoy to U. S.

THE Petain government in Vichy is sending Robert Gayet to the United States on an important economic and financial mission, French authorities reveal. Gayet formerly was French financial attaché in N. Y.

an ordinance providing a 50-foot no parking zone in front of the main entrance of the high school building. Parking will be permitted in front of the building except in the 50-foot zone. In a communication to Safety Director Karl Herrmann, Frank Fischer, superintendent of Circleville schools stated that 50-foot space was necessary to permit loading and unloading of children from school buses.

Wednesday Chosen For Conference

Representatives of Circleville's four leading industries will meet with council members Wednesday at 1 p. m. to consider fixing permanent sewage disposal assessment rates for their companies. Solicitor Joe Adkins informed council members that he had notified company officials of the meeting and that they had agreed on the date. The companies are the Container Corporation, the Winorr Canning Company, the Esmeralda Canning Company and the Pickaway Dairy Company.

A temporary four-month ordinance regulating rates, passed by Council July 19, 1939, expired last fall and since that time no ordinance fixing rates has been in effect.

Collections for Berger Hospital for August were $1,428.72, Safety Director Herrmann reported to Council.

All members of Council were present with the exception of G. G. Groom, councilman from the Third Ward.

Catholic Church Plans Peace Prayers Sunday

The Rev. Fr. Robert Brown, acting pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, announced Thursday that the local congregation would conduct a Day of Prayer for Peace next Sunday in compliance with the request of President Roosevelt. All Catholic churches in the nation will join in the Day of Prayer.

The program locally will start at 10 a. m. with a High Mass, to be followed by Exposition of the Most Blessed Sacrament during the remainder of the day.

At 7:30 p. m. there will be a period for public prayer to be followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Children of the parish will attend services in a body from 1 to 1:30 p. m.

The schedule of services is that ordered by Rt. Rev. J. J. Hartley to be followed by all parishes in the diocese of Columbus.

Continuing a custom formed some years ago the hours of Adoration for the women of the parish are specified. These times have been designated to enable all to spend at least one half hour in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament and also to meet with the convenience of each member.

The pastor also requests that the men of the parish make their visits accordingly, but leaves their time for Adoration to their discretion, since he is not familiar with their names at this time. He asks, however, that each visit the church Sunday and that all members receive the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist.

The women are asked to comply with this schedule as nearly as possible, and when it cannot be followed that arrangements be made with other members so there will be someone in Adoration at all times.
